The miners at the Jellico mines are on a strike.

The workingmen do not want to make a ten-strike at all. They are on an eight-strike, or nothing; and the ball is still rolling.

Let them have the right of a ten-strike, and see their worthless carcasses make revolutions under the scaffold.

The bill has passed the Legislature permitting the people of this county to vote on the Prohibition question. The bill is a copy of the Hopkins county bill.

Tennison in his ode at the opening of the Colonial Exhibition, London, calls on Britons to "hold their own." They do. Also as much of other people's property as they can get.

The Senatorial Committee to whom was referred the question of changing the date of the Presidential inauguration from March 4th to April 20th, have made a favorable report.

A western newspaper fought an appointment to a fat office which its editor earnestly favored. A man and his paper are often hostile to each other. Take, for instance, a moneyless man's paper for thirty days.

The House covered itself with glory Wednesday by passing the bill to continue the Geological Survey and appropriating $100,000 for that purpose. Some of the solons could not see the sense of the Survey and if it was all they could see, the state would be in a much better condition.

The Legislature will adjourn at high noon Monday, May 17th. The session by that time will have lasted 130 days, and the fellow who said that the Legislature is composed of a bright lot of men who don't seem to have the ability to do anything, will then be really to thank God that it is no worse than this.

A New York paper says: "It is estimated that in 1880 the laboring men of this country lost about $12,000,000 by strikes. If they had remained at work and had invested that $12,000,000 at 4 per cent, they would now be enjoying an annual income of $500,000, and with such an income they could soon buy a railroad or a horse-car line, and run it to suit themselves."

There should be a union of all parties to shut the door of American immigration forever in the face of the thieves, banditti, assassins and anarchists of Europe. We do not want them, on any conditions. There is no room here for them. Let them stay at home and suffer the penalty of their countless crimes. The honest foreigner is welcome always, but an anarchist never.

The Governor signed the bill allowing criminals to testify in their own behalf Wednesday and it is now a law. There are sometimes material facts in the testimony of the accused, and if he should be guilty his own evidence, generally speaking, will convict him. The first person to testify under the new law was Annie High, of Louisville, charged with grand larceny. She contradicted all the Commonwealth's witnesses, but her own tangled story convinced her. Under the new law it is hardly possible that an innocent man can be punished, while it is altogether improbable that the 99 guilty ones will escape.
